about/

Hi! I'm Shafwan Agung, but just call me Afan. Currently, I'm studying at Institut Teknologi Sepuluh Nopember Surabaya, majoring in information system bachelor degree. Besides tech stuff, I also like photography, film-making, I'm also a graphic design enthusiast. Right now, I'm interested into UI/UX design, since it will be a little bit relatable with my degree.

Since I was in junior high, I used to record things from an event for documentation using a handycam, but now I use a DSLR to shoot and record stuff. I also had a steadicam to stabilize my footage for shooting films or just a documentation. For editing, I used Adobe CC, such as: Premiere Pro, After Effects, Photoshop, etc. See my CV for detailed information.

I use my Nikon D3300 to capture these moment. Mostly using the kit lens, some are telephoto, and of course, the nifty fifty.

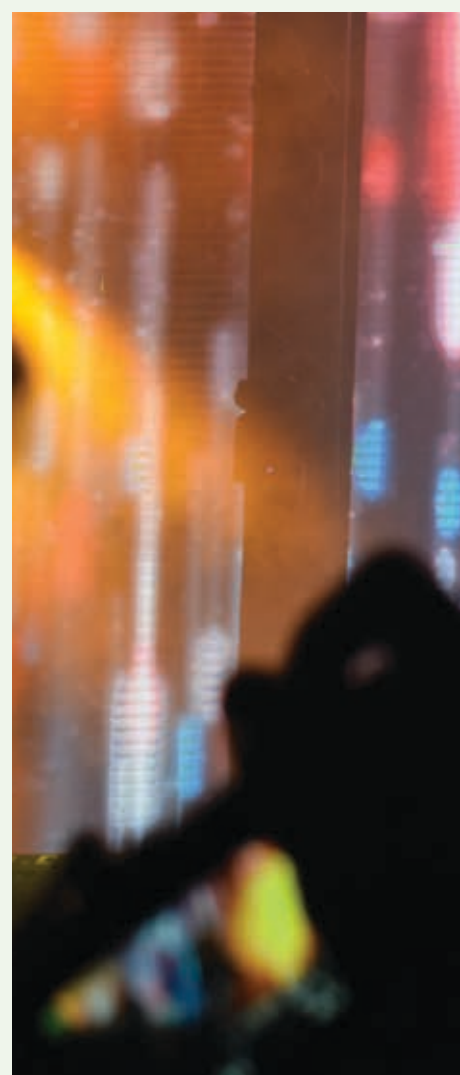

At first I don't really care about lens filter, but it actually turns out so good for beach landscapes when I put a CPL filter over it. You'll know it when you land on the vacation section. I promise it's breath-taking!

The first ever I went to a concert. If not for capturing the artist, I think I wouldn't be there. I think it's pretty good for my first time capturing a stage photography

Of course, I also use my Nikon D3300 to shoot these. Mostly using the kit lens, and some with the nifty fifty.

Some of my video, I used a stadicam to stabilize the footage. It was one of incredible tool I had right now, the shot looks a lot more pro then the other. I also, sometimes, direct and edit the video I took.

If I'm not mistaken, I took my first ever video was when I was just 10 years old. I started to record thing, a weird one, and started exploring the house with an old Nokia phone which I think the camera was just 2MP :)
